

JOB VACANCY

Trainee Valuer and Junior Account Manager

The Hilditch Group is Europe's leading auctioneer of medical & commercial equipment with offices in the UK, France, Germany and Spain, selling to customers all over the world.

You will be working within a small team of professional valuers and account managers. Full training will be provided and initially you'll be expected to work in a supporting role, with growth opportunities for exceptional candidates.

Some examples of the types of clients you'll be managing & supporting include the NHS, Private Hospital Groups, Lease Companies and Manufacturers

The company will also sponsor you through professional NAVA (National Association of Valuers & Auctioneers) qualifications and membership.

This job provides an ideal entry to the very diverse and exciting world of auctions, with terrific prospects for a successful career in the profession. The role would be an excellent pathway towards asset management, medical device sales or commercial valuation careers.

Job Role:

Some of your responsibilities will include:

- Onsite cataloguing of large assets including fixed radiology and commercial assets
- Data entry & sales support
- The opportunity to work on the rostrum, clerking and conducting auctions
- Working with buyers worldwide
- Building relationships with NHS and private sector vendors

As your knowledge improves you will also be given the responsibility to conduct independent valuations and support our clients as a Junior Account Manager.

Key requirements:

- Full driving licence required
- European language would be an advantage, but not a requirement
- Must be an enthusiastic, good communicator, and have a willingness to learn and try anything
- Excellent opportunity for dynamic, ambitious candidate with good A levels or degree.
